The principle of tithing is a spiritual practice to acknowledge the spiritual flow and Source of our life. We do this by giving our “first fruits” back into the flow of Life. We give to where we receive spiritual nourishment and enrichment.

The word “tithe” means “tenth” and the practice is to give a percentage of the financial substance that flows through our life to where we receive spiritual substance and nourishment. In so doing, we actively engage the flow of Life and ground our being on a spiritual foundation.
